NEW SPEED LIMITS IN EFFECT; HOLIDAY TRAFFIC DANGEROUS

In a news release today, Elmer Packard of South Paris, chairman of the Oxford County Chapter of the Maine Highway Safety Committee stated that more than 1,000 Maine law enforcement officials will be riding the Maine streets and highways from Friday noon, Aug. 30th through Sept. 2nd, in an effort to reduce personal injury and property damage accidents and to work for a "fatal free" week end period.

Chairman Packard stated that this was the largest enforcement coverage that any program sponsored by the Maine Highway Safety Committee had ever realized. He pointed out that the "60 mile an hour absolute speed limit" goes into effect on Wednesday, at midnight on August 28th and that this law will be enforced strictly. He pointed out that you must drive by the speed signs on all highways and that the "absolute speed" is 55 miles per hour after dark. In addition to this "you must drive so as not to impede the normal flow of traffic" and this is to bring all motor vehicle operators to understand that there is a "floor of speed" which you cannot drive below and that because there is a 60 mph absolute speed, it does not mean that you can drive 60 mph on all roads. YOU MUST DRIVE BY THE SPEED ON THE SIGN.

The new hand and arm signals goes into effect, along with the "rocked home" sign, "bicycle and play vehicle statute," the general penalties law is new and removed some of the horse and buggy phases of Maine motor vehicle laws, "the right of way in a traffic circle" is new and to combat the problem of the "speeding young driver," the new law to "remove the cloak of immunity from the 15 and 16 year old driver" goes into effect. This driver must now face the Court the same as the adult and on the same terms, with his name printed in the press, and the "loss of points" and other penalties, the same as his mother or father would receive if found guilty. It is designed to be a deterrent and will be strictly enforced.

Chairman Packard urges the people of Oxford County to make their contribution to the holiday program by driving safely and with CAUTION. He urges those who do not have to travel, to stay off the highway, with the return of out of state people, vacationing in Maine, the roads will have a record number of vehicles on them.

Road patrols will work the clock around, drunken driving will receive attention at the dance halls and on the highways and "flying squadrons" will move into heavily congested traffic. Helicopters from the military base will join with four Fish and Game planes and one Civil Aeronautics plane, to ride the airways above all highways and they will be in constant contact with ground patrol units.

TO OPEN HANOVER ROAD

BIDS SEPT. 4

On September 4th the State Highway Commission will open bids for the construction of two highway and two bridge projects. In Hanover, a section of U. S. Route 2 will be built beginning at a point 7 of a mile east of Newry Corner and will extend 4.15 miles towards Rumford. Engineering plans show that a large percentage of the new road will be built on new location in order to provide better alignment. It will have a bituminous concrete surface with eight-foot gravel shoulders.

A bituminous concrete road will be built to Baldwin starting at the junction of Route 5 from Churchville and Route 113 from Standish. It will run to a northerly direction on combined Routes 5-113-117 for a distance of 2.55 miles and will include three realignments that will improve alignment. As part of this project, a new 26-foot bridge will be built at Blackrock Brook and a bridge at Dog Hill Brook will be widened.

After Brook Bridge on Route 27 in Ashland will be rebuilt. It will have a 25-foot long concrete slab span requiring an estimated 250 cubic yards of concrete. In Wadsworth the Popville Bridge, which crosses Pleasant River, will be rebuilt. The 34-foot concrete slab span will require an estimated 245 cubic yards of concrete. Wadsworth will reimburse the State for the cost of this structure as it is located on a town way.

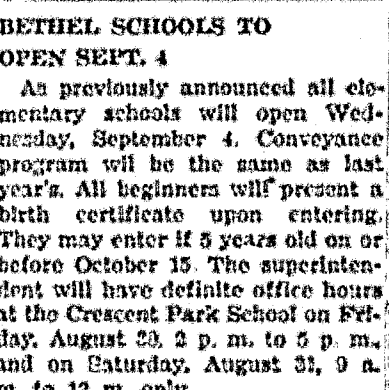

Mr. and Mrs. William Wight and family of Westfield, Conn. are spending this week at North Pond.

Economic Highlights

Happenings That Affect the Future of Every Individual — National and International Problems Inseparable from Local Welfare

We are approximately one-third employed. And if the trend continues at the rate it has followed since 1929, in 50 years 99 per cent of our economy will be socialized, and only one person out of 100 will be privately employed.

That startling observation comes from Emerson P. Schmidt, Director of Economic Research for the Chamber of Commerce of the United States. He points out that last year nearly one-third of the national income was channeled through government, either federal, state or local. He adds: "Just as human wants are limited and insatiable, it appears that the pressure for government intervention and expenditures is unlimited and insatiable."

Dr. Schmidt is particularly concerned with the continuing effort to load more and more activities and functions on the federal government. As he sees it, "We've seemingly become incapable of distinguishing between national problems and nationwide problems." Washington now runs 54 grants-in-aid programs and 13 new ones are in the current budget — including one for assisting states to plant trees! The results are inevitable. The government bureaucracy grows. The proportion of our earnings taken by government tends to increase. More and more government controls and regulations come into being, to the detriment of the free market. As a consequence, he finds, "...our growth rate has not been what it could be under more favorable tax treatment and less debilitating regulations."

According to him, since 1945 our per capita real income (which is income adjusted for changes in taxes and prices) has increased only $182, or about $18 per year per person. Dr. Schmidt deals in considerable detail with the steady growth of governmental intervention in the fields of money and banking. Intervention has taken various forms at various times, including the forcing down of interest rates, guaranteed loans, easier borrowing arrangements, etc. And this, he writes, "puts the economy under constant inflationary pressure and creates political pressures for direct government lending, direct controls, and regimentation. It must finally lead to capital investment rationing, compulsory saving, price and wage controls, profit controls, the allocation of labor to specific assignments...a regimented economy."

It is frequently said and commonly believed that the demand for new services and interventions by government comes from the people and so is irresistible. Dr. Schmidt characterizes that as "almost 100 per cent hokum and buncombe." He is convinced that the demand comes, instead, from a comparatively small number of researchers, writers and intellectuals. They get their ideas widely talked about...and then "...the politicians latch on to them and make them their own."

Is the situation hopeless? It is not, in Dr. Schmidt's view. Today, he feels, the basic drift of thought in the Western World is toward more conservatism...and that this drift can be capitalized upon. We can, he argues, get better representation at all levels of government. He makes his final point in these words: "If we each begin somewhere at the local level, within a few years we can change the socio-political climate in the direction of greater productivity and more freedom for all."

with that marvelous machine; the automobile. With the automobile in mind, let your thoughts wander for a moment: Imagine yourself standing beside some great assembly line in Detroit where automobiles are being produced. Can you imagine it "just happening"? Can you conceive that all the thousands of parts needed could "just happen" to come together in one place at the right time, each part "just happening" to be of the right shape and size? Then as the parts "just happen" to fall together, the automobile travels the assembly line, and starts off down the road with no one driving, weaving its way in and out of traffic, without accident and without breaking down, and continues on thus year after year!

When we can imagine that, we can imagine a universe without God.

OPERATION CAUTION! Make it your personal responsibility to keep from being involved in a motor vehicle accident during this Labor Day weekend. DRIVE WITH CAUTION!

The philosopher Paley wrote two centuries ago, "If I am walking across the field, and pick up a watch, I assume that this watch was made even though I have never seen him."

for changes in taxes and prices) has increased only $182, or about $18 per year per person.

Dr. Schmidt deals in considerable detail with the steady growth of governmental intervention in the fields of money and banking.

Intervention has taken various forms at various times, including the forcing down of interest rates, guaranteed loans, easier borrowing arrangements, etc. And this, he writes, "puts the economy under constant inflationary pressure and creates political pressures for direct government lending, direct controls, and regimentation. It must finally lead to capital investment rationing, compulsory saving, price and wage controls, profit controls, the allocation of labor to specific assignments...a regimented economy."

It is frequently said and commonly believed that the demand for new services and interventions by government comes from the people and so is irresistible. Dr. Schmidt characterizes that as "almost 100 per cent hokum and buncombe." He is convinced that the demand comes, instead, from a comparatively small number of researchers, writers and intellectuals. They get their ideas widely talked about...and then "...the politicians latch on to them and make them their own."

Is the situation hopeless? It is not, in Dr. Schmidt's view. Today, he feels, the basic drift of thought in the Western World is toward more conservatism...and that this drift can be capitalized upon. We can, he argues, get better representation at all levels of government. He makes his final point in these words: "If we each begin somewhere at the local level, within a few years we can change the socio-political climate in the direction of greater productivity and more freedom for all."

with that marvelous machine; the automobile. With the automobile in mind, let your thoughts wander for a moment: Imagine yourself standing beside some great assembly line in Detroit where automobiles are being produced. Can you imagine it "just happening"? Can you conceive that all the thousands of parts needed could "just happen" to come together in one place at the right time, each part "just happening" to be of the right shape and size? Then as the parts "just happen" to fall together, the automobile travels the assembly line, and starts off down the road with no one driving, weaving its way in and out of traffic, without accident and without breaking down, and continues on thus year after year!

When we can imagine that, we can imagine a universe without God.

OPERATION CAUTION! Make it your personal responsibility to keep from being involved in a motor vehicle accident during this Labor Day weekend. DRIVE WITH CAUTION!

THINK IT OVER

LABOR DAY

SHOULD AGAIN REMIND US THAT WORK IS THE DIGNIFIED AIM OF MAN!

THAT HE SHOULD, NOT ONLY BE WILLING TO LABOR, BUT THAT HE SHOULD USE EVERY EFFORT TO SO DEVELOP HIS ABILITY AS TO ACHIEVE HIS BEST FOR HIMSELF, HIS FAMILY AND FOR HIS COUNTRY!

TODAY'S meditation

from The Upper Room
THE WORLD'S MOST WIDELY USED DEVOTIONAL GUIDE

Thursday, August 29

Read Matthew 25:1-13.
They that were foolish took their lamps, and took no oil with them. (Matthew 25:13.)

DURING a motor trip to New York City, we passed along a long section of the road on which the shoulder just off the right side of the concrete had been dug out. This was in preparation for making the road wider.

The right lane, in which we were travelling, was just as wide as ever.

er. Nevertheless, a growing uneasiness took possession of us as we realized that just one wheel over the edge could mean disaster. It is the extra that really counts!

Many times we are content to perform only the necessary requirements of our faith. We have no reserves of love, patience, understanding. In the story which Jesus gave us of the ten virgins, all of them had lamps, but only five had brought enough extra oil to keep their lamps burning. Only the five wise virgins were ready when the call to the marriage came at midnight.

Prayer

Our Father, help us in our prayer life, in our thinking, and in our actions, to be ready for the unexpected. Help us that we may never be caught without a reserve of patience, understanding, and love. Help us to see the necessity of coming daily to Thy fountain of worship and thinking deeply of the eternal waters of strength. In Christ's name, Amen.

Thought For The Day
God helps us to prepare even for the unforeseen.

News of 4-H CLUBS

The Nature Boys 4-H Club met Thursday Aug. 22 at their leader's home with eight members present. Jimmy Davis acted as president in the absence of both the president and vice president. We opened the meeting singing "America," gave the flag salute, and repeated the club pledge. After the business meeting we judged vegetables. Both Bernie Rice and Maddy Brooks picked the five best cucumbers. Our leader explained why other vegetables would not do. Each member decided what vegetables would be sent to the fair. Forestry members will meet next week to finish their notebooks. We visited Bel Bean Robertson of Bethel, and Vera Holt Haskell, South Portland.

Much credit for the successful party is due the committee: Mrs. Ruth Ring and Charles Tuell and also to Leo Cole, '15, who was too ill to attend the reunion.

Do noble things, not dream them.

girls enjoyed a swim. Then everyone gathered around the fire and enjoyed a lunch, prepared by the 4-H members. Hot dogs, green salad, olives, celery, potato chips, cold drink, sandwiches, blonde brownies and cookies and fudge soon disappeared and it was time to go home. The girls had a good time and were sorry Cheryl Grover was unable to go with us.—Secretary, Daisy Morrill.
